michael.furze@easyavenues.co.uk | 020 3058 2328

Michael's attention to detail has always been at the forefront of whatever he turns his hand to. His very early career was in banking before working in photography, including running his own business managing Heathrow Airport's digital photography. More recently, he has turned his attention to accounting as it appeals to his sense of accuracy and satisfaction in making the numbers balance.
